

SOY 2022 Innovation Challenge

The Kentucky Soybean Promotion Board is pleased to announce its

2022 Soy Innovation Challenge

hosted in conjunction with Conn Center for Renewable Energy Research at the University of Louisville

Student teams from UofL, Bellarmine, Sullivan, and JCTC under the direction of Conn Center and faculty mentors, will formulate and present concepts to the Soybean Board and/or staff in September via Zoom. Four to five (4-5) selected concepts will be awarded $2,000-$3,000 seed money to develop those concepts over the course of the next 2-3 months.

Preliminary concepts are due by September 15 at 11:59 pm.

Full proposals are due December 12 at 11:59 pm.
